The student representative council 2020 of Namibia University of Science and Technology (Nust) bid farewell to the university after their term ended on 10 February 2021.

According to the president Lelian David, they were the first team that led for half a year instead of a full tenure yet delivered service beyond expectations.

“We are not the team that got into office to push for fame, we are not the team that got into office just for the benefits, in fact we are the team that led, fought and ensured students’ needs were met especially during their most difficult and trying times” She said.
